

Miro Entertainment Unit | Spanish Beige Marble

Miro Entertainment Unit redesigned — Spanish Marble

A study in balance—weight and movement, solidity and restraint. Reimagined in Spanish Marble, the Miro Entertainment Unit brings a softer, more tonal expression to stone. Subtle variation runs through each surface, giving the piece depth without distraction—natural markings that shift gently with light. The sliding door system introduces a quieter way to function. Panels move effortlessly along a concealed track, allowing you to reveal or conceal storage without interrupting the form. Open, it exposes a structured interior for media and objects; closed, it returns to a clean, uninterrupted facade.
