

Myrrh Dining Table | Natural White

The Myrrh Outdoor Dining Table brings sculptural form and generous proportions to both indoor and outdoor dining. Crafted from natural white concrete, its expansive rectangular top is grounded by distinctive spiral-form legs, creating a bold architectural silhouette softened by organic curves. Generously sized, Myrrh is designed for open and expansive spaces, offering ample room for gathering, long lunches, entertaining and shared meals with family and friends.

The natural concrete finish celebrates the inherent character of the material, with subtle variations in tone, texture and surface markings making each piece unique. These natural characteristics are not considered imperfections, but an integral part of the table’s organic appeal.

Suitable for both indoor and outdoor use, Myrrh creates a substantial yet refined centrepiece for dining rooms, terraces, courtyards and gardens.

Assembly required (table top and two bases).
